HEARD MEMBERS CHOICE AWARD: JACK HARRISON

CHANGES

Hi everyone!

As we announced earlier, an overwhelming majority of members voted to go to quarterly meetings for the time being, so our next meeting is slated for March. We expect that to be over Zoom, but sincerely hope that by the June meeting we can go to an in-person format. We are dropping the yearly dues to $10 for this year only, with no price break in June.

In the meantime, Jackie Ranney and Steven Earles are planning at least two shooting meetups/field trips each month, commencing with a trip on January 8th to Honey Grove. Since we aren't meeting monthly, we will post the field trip slideshows to Vimeo and post a link to them on our website, and on the FaceBook group page. Please continue to send your images to Ron Marabito. That way we can all share the great work we do.

Where officers are concerned, the results of voting are in. 45 out 153 (29%) of our members submitted their votes, and the unanimous decision was to accept the slate of officers proposed for 2022:

President:

Anita Oakley will take the president's responsibilities the first quarter,

Elisabeth Shore will for the second quarter.

Doug Boone has offered to take this position for the second half of the year.

Co-Vice Presidents:

Programs – David Duckworth
Equipment - Craig Rowen

Secretary/Treasurer: Brian Clark

Membership: Guy Huntley

Newsletter: Nancy Mack

Field Trip Co-Coordinator:

Steve Earles
Jackie Ranney

Refreshments: Linda Grigsby

Gulf States: JD Luttmer

We are looking forward to a substantially different, but better year. Thanks everyone for voting, and offering to help lead the club in 2022.

Field Trips

Hello everyone! What a year 2021 was!

I'm excited to announce we will not only continue to offer field trips in 2022, but we are enhancing the program. Jackie Ranney and I (Steven Earles) teamed up and we are planning for the new year. Our goal is to have a weekend and a weekday trip for each month. The trips we plan may not be strictly nature. We will have a category of trips we will refer to as Nature Plus. In these trips the "hand of man" may be the prominent feature of the trip. An example is the trip planned to Honey Grove this month where we will be photographing historic buildings.

Announcements will be made by email blast to our paid membership and included in the newsletter. We are asking everyone to register through our website at <https://www.heardnaturephotographers.com/field-trips-1> .

By using this tool to register, it creates a database we can use to contact participants to announce changes or request images without blasting the entire club. Registering through the website will require you to agree to the Heard Nature Photographers liability waiver. Please use this process to help Jackie and I keep track of the trips. In some cases, we may have to limit the number of participants and the only way to get the exact meeting location and time is to enroll.

We have two field trips scheduled for January. The first is a trip to Honey Grove, Texas on Saturday, January 8th. Honey Grove has a large collection of historic homes and buildings. We will meet at Honey Grove Park at the corner of South 6th and Market streets, at 8:00 am. For more details and to sign up you can visit our website at <https://www.heardnaturephotographers.com/field-trips-1/2022/1/8/honey-grove> .

The second trip for January will be on Thursday January 13th at Texas Discovery Gardens – Butterfly House located at Fair Park. We will meet in front at 10:00 am. You can sign up for this trip at <https://www.heardnaturephotographers.com/field-trips-1/2022/1/13/texas-discovery-gardens-butterfly-house> .

Save the dates November 4-5-6 for an away trip planned to Beavers Bend State Park in Oklahoma. If you are interested in this trip, it is recommended that you make lodging reservations now. It is a very popular fall destination so hotels, cabins and campsites will book early.

Following is our schedule for 2022:

Katmai National Park

MICHAEL FARNHAM

is this month's featured club member.

My name is Michael Farnham and I became interested in Photography relatively late in life. I was 57 when I bought my first serious camera. I currently use a Canon R5 almost exclusively. At the time of my trip to Alaska I was using a Canon 7D Mark II and a Canon 5D Mark IV.

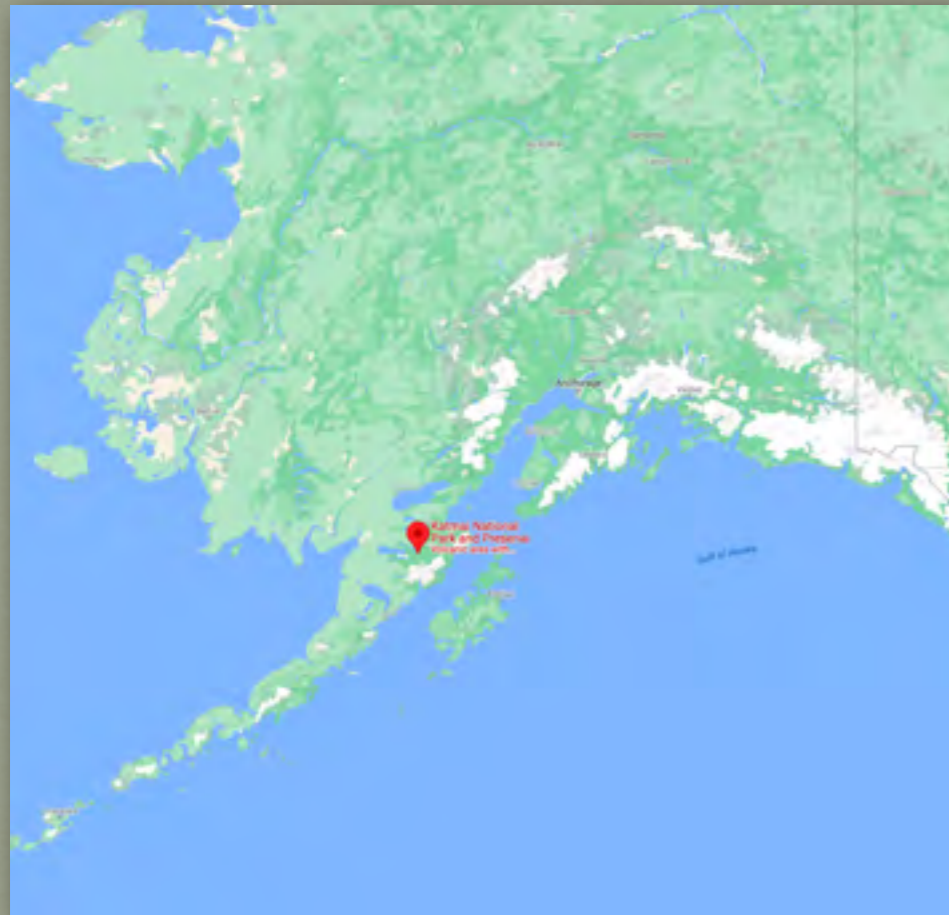

My favorite subject is wildlife and I have wanted to go to Alaska to get photographs of brown bears. When I heard through this club that Tom Savage was looking for somebody to replace a couple that had canceled on a trip to Katmai National Park I let him know that I was interested.

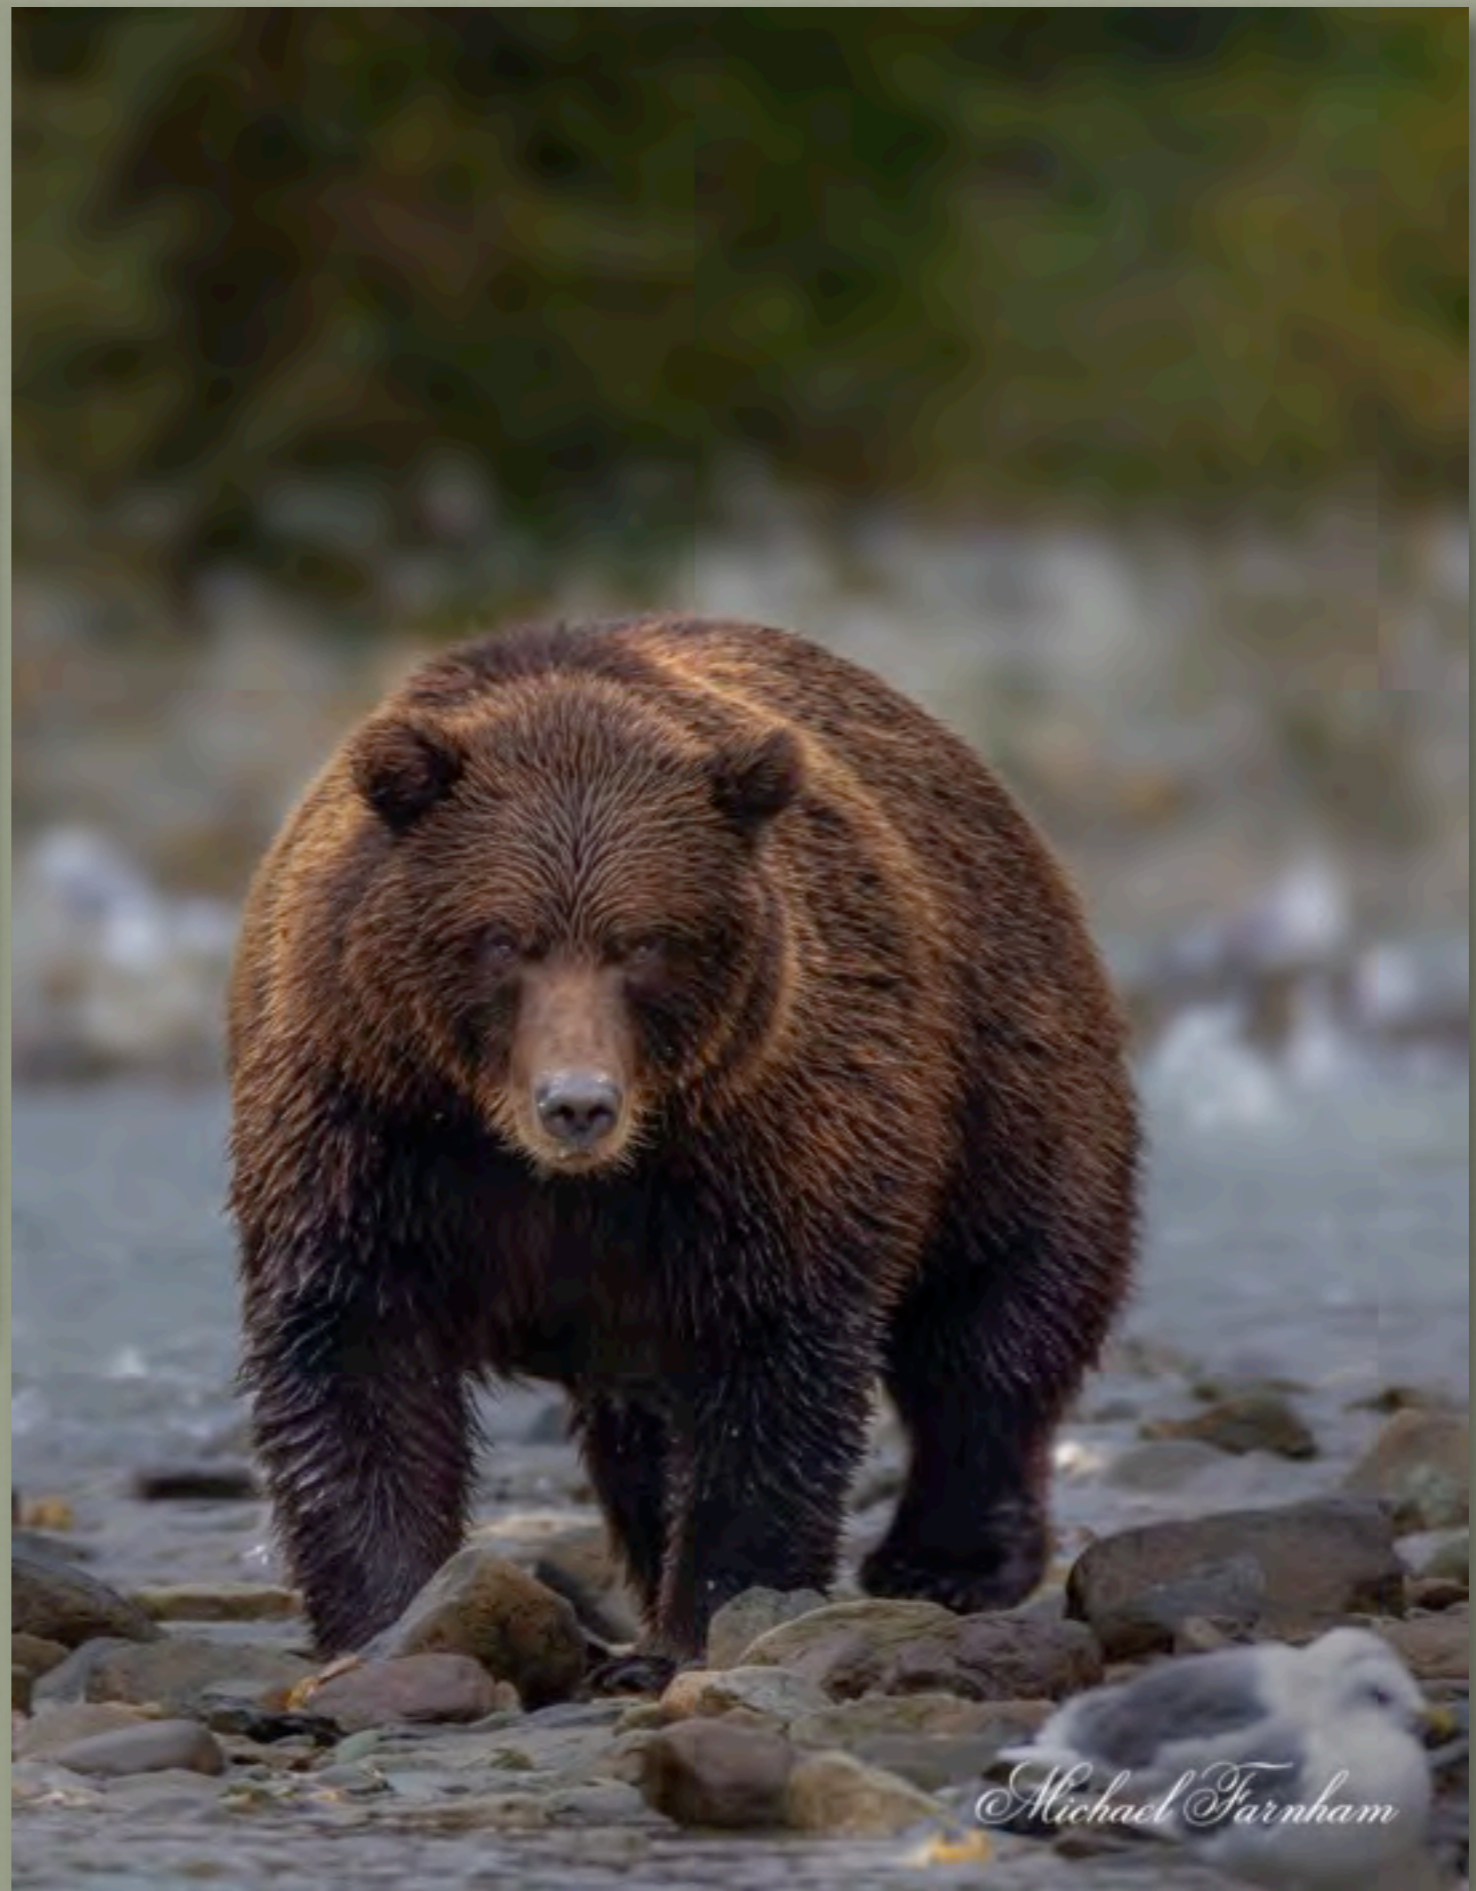

Temporary Home, Michael Farnham

This was our home while we were in Katmai. We left every morning and every evening to get photographs. A few times we shifted anchorages and visited different sites within the park.

MICHAEL FARNHAM at Katmai

This was one of the first images I captured inside the park. We saw some bears on the island of Kodiak before we boarded the boat but I was not able to get any images I liked from them.

Katmai Bear, Michael Farnham

Michael Farnham

This image shows a bear that is obviously aware of us and wants to make sure we know that the fish belongs to him.

Michael Farnham

Success!, Michael Farnham

I was lucky enough to capture this image just as the bear snagged a fish. My usual technique was to capture a burst of photos whenever I saw something that I felt had a chance of being interesting.

Dinner Time, Michael Farnham

I enjoyed seeing this bear taking some time out from the serious business of gathering calories.

At Rest, Michael Farnham

One afternoon we went out in a small boat looking for Eagles and found some Alaskan wildlife other than bears.

This was my first wild eagle. It was a long way away and the boat as not very stable but it has value to me because it was my first.

Katmai Eagle, Michael Farnham

These were not quite my first otters because we saw an otter in the harbor
where we were staying on Kodiak.

Michael Farnham

The Curious Otters, Michael Farnham

This group of Oyster Catchers interested me because of the splash of color.

Michael Farnham

The Oyster Catchers, Michael Farnham

These bears did not actually attack each other but they spent a while trying to show that they were in charge.

Michael Farnham

The Grumpy Bears, Michael Farnham

These three cubs are siblings.

Michael Farnham

The Children, Michael Farnham

Here are the same three cubs with their mother.

Michael Farnham

The Family, Michael Farnham

Another shot of the family group with a meal they are sharing.

Michael Farnham

The Three Little Bears, Michael Farnham

This is the mother bear trying to feed herself and her family.

Michael Farnham

I See It, Michael Farnham

Another bear in the middle of a hunt. I find the eyes to be a compelling feature in this image.

The Eyes, Michael Farnham

Splashing water plus visible prey attract my attention in this photograph.

Michael Farnham

Zeroed In, Michael Farnham

This time the claws are hard to ignore.

Here I Come, Michael Farnham

I feel this image shows how close the bears were to us and how little attention they paid us.

Michael Farnham

Crowded Territory, Michael Farnham

A bear charging through the water seemingly framed by the water that is flying around him.

Michael Farnham

The Chase, Michael Farnham

I enjoy this quiet moment between a mother and her cub.

Japanese Gardens

Explore the Garden

The Fort Worth Japanese Garden was completed in 1973. It is a traditional strolling garden with winding paths through the landscapes and around ponds. The garden consists of 7.5 acres filled with cherry trees, Japanese maples, magnolias, bamboo, bridges, and ponds filled with koi fish.

Except in the spring, there are few flowers blooming in the Japanese Garden due to the Japanese practice of Mono no Aware. Mono no Aware translates to “transient/bittersweet beauty”, meaning if the garden was always blooming, it would never be special.
